Want to get your body in Paczki Day shape?

One convenient way to do that is participate in tomorrow’s (Saturday, Feb. 25) annual 5K Paczki Run, which is now in its fifth year.

If you have not already pre-registered, the cost is $45, and sign up is at the race site on Jos. Campau just south of Holbrook.

The run takes off at 10 a.m.

Last year about 3,000 runners participated, and it’s estimated that many more are expected this year.

And to give the event that extra Hamtramck twist, there will be free paczki and beer (for those 21 years old and up) at the end of the race.

The route of the run winds throughout the city, and offers a unique glimpse into our fascinating neighborhoods.

“The Paczki Run celebrates the rich immigrant tradition that makes Hamtramck one of the most diverse communities in Southeast Michigan,” said Vittoria Katanski, Di-

Paczki Day promises to attract thousands of visitors

By Charles Sercombe

Hamtramck’s very own holiday is right around the corner.

Paczki Day is this coming Tuesday (Feb. 28), and local bakeries and bars are already gearing up for the big day.

Several thousand visitors are expected to swarm into town. According to weather reports, the warm weather trend is expected to continue through next week with temps in the 50s.

But on Saturday, the metro area will experience a dip down into the 30s. Saturday kicks off Paczki Day festivities with the annual 5K Paczki Run, sponsored by Tour de Hamtramck’s bakeries will be working around the clock this weekend to meet the demand for paczki next Tuesday. Thousands of paczki lovers are expected to jam the city’s bakeries on Paczki Day.

Troit.

Last year 3,000 people in the run, and this year that number is expected to increase. The run begins at 10 a.m. at Jos. Campau, just south of Holbrook. Runners – and walkers – wind through the neighborhoods of Hamtramck, and come back to free paczki and beer (for those who are 21 years old or older).

It’s music, food and drinks all day long at several local bars on Paczki Day. Come out and enjoy Hamtramck’s version of Mardi Gras.

It’s party all day and night on Paczki Day in Hamtramck

By Charles Sercombe

There is no shortage of things to do on Paczki Day. And keeping in the Mardi Gras spirit of the day, it mostly involves drinks, food and music. Here’s the rundown:

New Dodge Lounge, 8850 Jos. Campau

We can’t think of a better way to start the day than an early morning wake-up at New Dodge. The Polish Muslims hit the stage at 7 a.m. to usher in the bar’s “PaczkiPalooza” festival.

The place gets packed quick, but there is plenty of room both upstairs and down. New Dodge has it all: drink specials, home-cooked Polish food, Miller Girls, Jager Girls, DJ’s (Jo-Town, Mike Bush and Reverend Tire Iron), mini-beer specials, booze, and more booze and live music

Keyworth to get more upgrades

By Charles Sercombe

Renovations at the historic Keyworth Stadium are far from over.

Recently, the Detroit City Football Club announced plans to continue its overhaul of the stadium.

The club will complete its grandstand repairs on the east side of the stadium as well as the northend and portions of the southend.

The work is expected to be completed before the season opener on May 6.

The northend of the grandstands will include bleacher seating, while the southend portion will be standing room.

Additional renovations include structural and utility upgrades throughout the 80-year-old stadium.

With the additional investment, and based on a recalculation for safety precautions and code compliance, the official capacity at Keyworth will stand at 7,325.

The southernmost portion of the east grandstands will not be included in this year’s renovations.

After announcing its move to Keyworth Stadium in late 2015, DCFC launched Michigan’s largest community invest-

Your guide to where the best paczki can be found

By Charles Sercombe

Where are the best paczki?

The short answer is, Hamtramck of course.

Assuming you are already here, follow the paczki scent to these locations:

The most well-known bakery is New Palace at 9833 Jos. Campau. Folks wait up to three hours to get a dozen or so of these treats. You can beat the rush by buying your paczki starting this Sunday at 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.; then again on Monday from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Fat Tuesday, the bakery opens at 3 a.m.

One way to cut down on your wait is to call ahead and place an order. New Palace can be reached at (313) 875-1334.

New Martha Washington Bakery is saying the heck with it and will do a marathon around-the-clock paczki pushing starting on Monday at 5 a.m. and staying open through Tuesday until 9 p.m.

It's located at 10335 Jos. Campau, and you can call ahead at (313) 872-1988.

Off the beaten path a little bit is Family Donut at Conant and Caniff, where there is a much shorter line but good paczki nonetheless.

Got a hankering for Polish food this weekend?

How about something kind of homey and a one of a kind Hamtramck experience?

Holy Cross Church will be serving up a "Pre-Lenten" Polish meal on Saturday (Feb. 25) from 4 to 7 p.m., which also features live accordion music.

It's a good deal, as well, with adults paying $10 and children $5. The church is located at Pulaski and Fleming and there is free parking across from the church.

ment campaign ever to finance stadium renovations. Over $700,000 was raised.

Last year's season attracted 52,550 fans. So far, ticket sales for this season are outpacing last year's.

Keyworth will host 11 matches this year beginning with a preseason exhibition game with the Dayton Dynamo on Saturday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Le Rouge, the club's nickname, will begin its 2017 National Premier Soccer League (NPSL) season at home on Friday, May 12 against the Milwaukee Torrent. Kick-off for the NPSL opener is set for 7:30 p.m.

Season tickets start at $70, and single game tickets go on sale in early March.

RED team update: Do you ever notice some people seem to say one thing, but they are actually thinking something else?

That happens a lot with teenagers talking about drugs and tobacco. The RED team is excited to educate other KMS students about the differences between how we hear about drugs and what is actually happening. Look for a cool bulletin board next month!

The RED Team is also in the first steps of partnering with the high school DECA (business) team. The high school students will help our RED Team members use real marketing strategies to get our message across: we're proud to be drug free! The RED team meets every Wednesday from 3-4 p.m.

Ms. Amanda Lesko's second grade class even made a snack that had all kinds of delicious ingredients that added up to 100 in each snack bag. Students brought in 100 things to count by 1's, 2's, 5's and 10's.

On Valentine's Day students shared cards and sweets with their classmates. In Ms. Janice Rakoczy's class, the students had a home project where they decorated a valentine box with their winding up with the St. Thomas Boys Academy.

Bar owner Cathie Gordon will be serving, and pouring, and if you’re lucky, she’ll do her standing-on-the-bar-pouring-a-drink-down-your-throat thing.

PLAV Post 10 Hall, 11824 Jos. Campau

The party starts at 10 a.m., and for those who can stomach it, there is a Paczki Eating Contest at noon upstairs.

For 15 agonizing minutes contestants stuff as many paczki as they can in their mouth, chew and swallow them. Trust us, this is not for the squeamish.

For those who want a regular meal, the kitchen kicks out some tasty Polish meals, thanks to Srodek’s, at a super low price.

Live music starts right after the contest with Polka Floyd at 12:30 p.m. At 2:30 p.m. it’s the Kielbasa Kings; 4 p.m. it’s Hamtramck’s own Danny D and the evening caps out with the Polish Muslims at 6:30 p.m.

Downstairs DJ Chuck E will be spinning. Proceeds from the day go toward helping hospitalized veterans.

Smalls, 10339 Conant

This is where the famous “Paczki Bomb” was invented, and yes it is just what you think: A paczki filled with booze. These go fast, so first-come, first-serve.

There are also plenty of beer specials.

The bar opens at 10 a.m. and goes all night to 2 a.m.

Live music starts at 4 p.m. with Polka Floyd, and then Eastside Elvis & the Motor City Mafia and Captains of the Head. For the latest info, go to: smalls-bar.com.

Trixie’s Bar, 2656 Carpenter

This little gem has expanded the Hamtramck bar scene to the northern border of Detroit.

This will be the bar’s first Paczki Day offering, and it’s a good one. Trixie’s opens at 3 p.m. and will offer free Srodek’s sausage and sauerkraut to customers at 4:30 p.m. Around 6 p.m., Nicollett Warczak will be selling “Wilk Homemade Pierogi” made fresh the morning of Paczki Day. These huge pierogies will be three for $5 or you can take home a dozen for $7 and fry them up yourself.

Whiskey in the Jar, 2741 Yemans

There’s big fun in the bar’s backyard heated tent.

Polish food and drink specials abound. Come with some friends, or make some new ones, and share a “Poleski.” When you see it, you’ll get the joke.

Music starts at 11 a.m. with the Kielbasa Kings and at 2:30 p.m. with the Polish Muslims.

Here’s what the bar has to say about itself: “Paczki Day, The Whiskey Way ain’t for the noobs, rookies or amateurs. ... We weren’t voted One Of America’s Best Bad Decision Bars for nothing!!

“Just know that, as always, it’ll be a spectacle.”

Yes, you read that correctly: first you run and then you eat paczki and drink beer. Experienced Hamtramckans. Of course, skip the running/walking part and proceed directly to the paczki/beer part of the day.

The city’s Downtown Development Authority is also holding a “Count-down to Paczki Day” event right next to the starting place for the 5K run.

In a heated tent, you can enjoy a free paczki sampling and dance to a live polka band, courtesy of the Misty Blues. A Polish folk dance ensemble, the Gwiazda Polish Dancers, will also perform.

There is also an added bonus: A shuttle bus will take you to local bakeries for free so you can load up on paczki and beat the crowd on Tuesday. That service is free.

The event goes from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

On Tuesday, local bakeries will be open all day and through the evening. Here’s a heads-up: You can order ahead of time and you won’t have to wait in line as long.

Historical Museum looking for some helping hands

Have a few extra hours to help preserve the city’s history?

If so, the Hamtramck Historical Museum is seeking volunteers to assist in a number of areas:

- Archiving: Sorting, cataloging material and placing in archival boxes; photographing material for disc catalog.

- Social media: Updating website, Facebook page, Tweeting.
- Historical research: Tracking down historical information about Hamtramck on the Internet, visiting the Burton collection at the Detroit Public Library, other sites.
- Light housekeeping: Dusting cabinets, vacuuming floor, cleaning bathroom/back room, etc.
- Lifting: This entails carrying boxes and donated items to proper storage areas.

All volunteers would be asked to work no more than a couple of hours a week, usually on weekends. Museum board directors would be present while volunteers are working.

Volunteers do not have to be Hamtramck residents. If you would like further information or wish to volunteer, please email hamtramckhistory@gmail.com or call (248) 770-8389 and you will be contacted.

In Our Opinion

It's Hamtramck's moment to shine in the coming weeks

Time to roll out the Hamtramck welcome mat.

Some huge events are coming up in the next couple of weeks that will attract thousands of visitors. First up is the now annual 5K Paczki Run this Saturday, sponsored by Tour de Troit. Last year about 3,000 runners participated, and folks in the know say that number will greatly increase.

After the race, the yearly Countdown to Paczki Day will take place in a heated tent at the Hamtramck Town Center parking lot.

It's a fun day that offers a chance for many visitors to get a unique look at the city.

Of course on Tuesday, the big day is here, and our local bars and bakeries will be ready for the onslaught of visitors. Each year it seems that Paczki Day in Hamtramck gets bigger and bigger.

After Tuesday ends, rest up because the next weekend offers more fun. The Hamtramck Music Festival returns for the fourth year, and once again thousands of people will be crowding the streets.

This is a homegrown event that has replaced the former Hamtramck Blowout.

During the week of March 2-5 you'll get a chance to select from over 200 bands to check out, all for a mere $10 for the entire weekend. Now try to find a deal like that outside of this city.

All of this comes at the right time as we get ready to say good riddance to winter and welcome back spring.

Odds & Ends

Correction...

In last week's issue it was incorrectly reported that the Hamtramck Public School District is a Sanctuary District. The district is actually a "Safe Haven" for immigrant students. The two terms have been used interchangeably by media outlets.

So-called Sanctuary cities and school districts pledge to not cooperate with federal authorities in detaining undocumented immigrants. Safe Havens only offer legal assistance and emotional support to immigrant students and their families.

Celebration...

The local Bengali community celebrated International Mother Language Day last Monday evening at Zussman Park and also at local businesses.

The purpose of the day is to promote the awareness of language and cultural diversity all around the world.

The 21st of February also commemorates the day in 1952 when four students were killed in Dhaka, the capital of Bangladesh. The students were protesting the repression of their native language.

The city's Bengali community celebrated International Mother Language Day last Monday at Zussman Park.

Obituaries

KASOWSKI

By Charles Sercombe

Two years ago Frances Farnia, the soup lady at Queen of Apostles' Soup Kitchen, was about to celebrate her 93rd birthday.

And she also regaled us about her fight over a ticket she got for parking in a handicapped spot in the CVS parking lot.

Farnia isn't handicapped nor does she have a handicap designation on her license plate, but a nice security guard didn't want her to park in a muddy section of the lot and told her to park in the handicap zone.

But by some crazy stroke of bad timing, an overzealous Hamtramck officer drove by, noticed the parking infraction and ticketed her.

When did you ever see a Hamtramck cop do that on a private commercial lot?

Anyway, all was good as she beat the ticket, and the cop in question surprised her with a birthday cake to make up for his, ah, indiscretion.

Flash forward to a couple of weeks ago, and we other 90-something-year-old who is in charge of a kitchen crew and works long hours every Thursday to feed Hamtramck's growing low-income community?

That's a key part of her secret to living a long and healthy life.

"Work all the time and keep busy," is the motto she lives by.

Keeping busy also includes going to Eastern Market every Saturday when the weather is nice.

She lost her husband, Casmere, 31 years ago, but has three adult children, five grandkids and 11 great-grandkids who make sure she stays busy the rest of the week.

Farnia has been living in the same house for 65 years, but not entirely alone.

"It's me and my shadow, and my angels," she says.

Why stay put in Hamtramck all these years?

"It's a nice city to live in," she said.

As they say in Hamtramck, "Sto Lat" and see you next year Frances.

Frances Farnia recently celebrated her 95th birthday.

dropped in again to visit with Farnia. This time, thank goodness, there was no ticket issue.

Instead, she was celebrating her 95th birthday, and we swear she didn't look a day older than 93. Actually, she looks better than a lot of folks in their 70s and maybe a few of you 50-year-olds.

She may be slightly hunched over and white-haired, but she's also got a lot of spunk. Let's just say you don't want to mess with a Hamtramck grandmother – especially one standing her ground in a kitchen loaded with utensils.

If you need any more proof, do you know any

City Hall Insider ...

*What is our City Council up to these days?
We have the highlights of the latest council meeting.*

By Charles Sercombe

The city council met on Jan. 24 and all councilmembers were present.

Before the regular council meeting a work session was held. During that meeting the city's financial auditor gave a report on his yearly findings. He said the city needs to improve on timely water meter readings.

He also said the city's expenses dropped from $17 million to $15 million mostly because of a reduction in public safety costs.

Councilmember Anam Miah questioned what were the most significant "issues."

The auditor said it was a "pretty standard audit."

Miah also questioned whether it would be wise to dip into the city's $4 million budget surplus to pay back a $2 million loan from the city's pension system.

Finance Director Bhama Cairns said the city's pension obligation keeps going up about $200,000 to $300,000 a year. She said it's better to save the surplus for that expense.

She added that the loan to the pension system has a very low interest rate at about 2 percent.

In the regular meeting the council adopted a proclamation celebrating Feb. 21 as International Mother Language Day.

During the public comment section, Carrie Beth Lasley said she was "upset" with the recent appointment of a Zoning Board of Appeals member by a bare majority of councilmembers in the past meeting.

She questioned why those councilmembers, Miah, Mohammed Hassan and Saad Almasmari, would go against the recommendation of a city department head.

Robert Zwolak urged the council to renew the contract for City Manager Katrina Powell, or otherwise begin a search for a new city manager. (Powell's employment contract with the city expires in June.)

Cathie Gordon asked for a report on legal expenses for all city cases. She said the administration told her to file a Freedom of Information Act request to get this information.

She said there is no reason to demand that.

"This is our tax dollars," she said.

She added that the Police Department has only 29 officers but the city is paying out millions of dollars in legal costs and for engineering work.

The city's engineer talked about an upcoming street repair project. He said the city was awarded a federal grant that will cover 80 percent of the cost to replace Holbrook from Jos. Campau to Conant.

That project will happen in 2018.

City Manager Powell said the city is also going ahead with other street repairs. She added that all of the city's potholes have been repaired.

Councilmember Miah said that the worst portion of Holbrook is from Jos. Campau to Lumpkin. The city's engineer said that it is possible to extend repairs to that section in the coming years.

Councilmember Miah praised Mayor Karen Majewski for her participation in the Women's March on Washington D.C.

"My hat is off to you," he said.

Majewski replied: "We feel threatened as a diverse community."

Councilmember Ian Perrotta commended City Manager Powell and her staff for their management of city finances.

"It's a big change on the way things were going even a couple of years ago," Perrotta said.

Councilmember Hassan agreed, saying the city is "going in the right direction."

Powell said Hamtramck was a winner of an engineering award for the sewer repair project.

"This is just the beginning," Powell said, referring to more projects to come in the next few years.

Councilmember Mohammed Hassan said he wants to add a second portion on the agenda for the public to comment.

City Attorney Travis Mihelick said that is up to the city manager and the mayor, who decide what goes on the agenda.
